

The Candle Image on the Mirror

The Image In The Mirror

The Mirror Interprets the Source. The Mirror has limited degrees of knowing. The birth of spirit & matter come from motion! Slowly over time these sparks obtain self consciousness. They become souls at that point. Thus, the mirror becomes the first being. It becomes the creator of all Universe(s). After the sparks obtain self conscientious, the "All Mind" or "First Being or Creator", becomes a "Oneness" composed of many sparks or souls. From this it follows that the creator is made of many souls in "perfect absolute diversity". It is; a oneness of diversity! Some souls chose to reincarnate. Others souls prefer to watch & guard evolution unfold. These refuse to reincarnate. When the choice is made by both groups, "Free Will" and its' opposite "Karma" are born! That is, cause & effect. This is because the image in the mirror is dualistic.

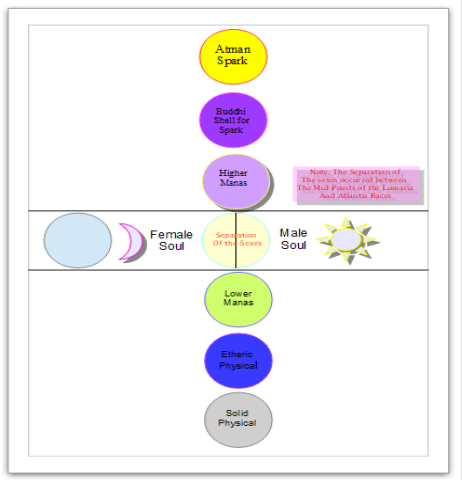

Notions About The Source

To speak of "god" or the "source" is a impossibility. Most religions use the Mirror (or the One) for their notion of god. They use man made or anthropological terms to express "the infinite in finite words". There religious texts have been are riddle with confusion down through the ages. Their clergy uses this to gain psychological control over their followers for selfish reasons. For man can not express the incorporeal. That which has no body, nor appearance, form or matter can never be apprehended by the 7 sense in man. The 7 senses can never rise above it's source. Let the source be called the absolute unknowable all. Let the 3 permanent atoms of force which the source emits be called the divine spark. Let the 3 permanent atoms of force that reflex off the surface of the mirror transform into souls over time. Let the souls be called pillars. The attributes of a pillar is not the pillar itself. So too with the absolute unknowable all. So too with the candle & the mirror.

Good and evil are two hands folded in prayer to a man made god (or the The image In The Mirror). All life and being can have not direct contact with the source. For insight into this relationship between the cause on the one hand, and the effect on the other, see the following charts to define terms:

To power their UFOs.
